

Mountain Plovers

Mountain plovers live in the grasslands of Colorado. They do not live in the mountains. They often use areas by old prairie dog towns for their homes. They eat insects. These birds can catch an insect the first day they are born!

